SAVED BY WIRELESS

Porto Novo, Azores Islands, June 12.—The steamer passengers of the Cunard steamer, Slavonia, wrecked off Flores Island, have been landed. The cabin passengers were taken aboard the Lloyd steamer, Princess Irene.

Punta Del Galda, Azores, June 12.—The rescue of the passengers of the Slavonia was, perhaps, more thrilling than that of the Republic, the wireless being used with great effect. The Princess Irene was 180 miles away when "C. Q. D." was picked up and immediately the big steamer put about and learning the location of the stricken steamer hastened to the rescue and every soul was saved.

THE MOST INIQUITOUS BILL

CONGRESS EVER PASSED.

Washington, June 12.—Consideration of the free list of the tariff bill was taken this afternoon, when Overman characterized the Payne-Aldrich bill as the most iniquitous bill ever passed by congress. He favored Bailey's income tax amendment and declared he would offer an amendment for a head tax on immigrants and amendments empowering the President to abrogate the collection of duties on articles similar to those manufactured by corporations which control fifty per cent of the American output and offer for sale its goods abroad cheaper than in the United States.

Following this set speech the senate resumed the routine discussion of the articles on the free list.

Roswell Country Club Notice.

Owing to the fact that the United States Government absolutely refuses in future to furnish any fish for private waters and the recent excessive number of large bass that have been caught that were originally put in the lake for stocking purposes is so rapidly depleting the lake of bass, we are compelled to have all bass caught in the future immediately returned to the lake and no bass will be permitted to be taken from the lake. The fishing hours on Thursdays in the future will be from 5 a. m. to 7 p. m. The number of perch to each membership represented remains 20, the same as in the past. All members please observe these rulings in a strictly sportsmanlike spirit and not cause themselves or the keeper any annoyance. We are trying to preserve the supply of fish in the lake in order to have permanent fishing. All rulings will be strictly enforced.

A 'QUAKE KILLS 100

Paris, France, June 12.—According to the latest reports which reached here last night from southern France, the towns of Cannat and Rognes were completely ruined by an earthquake that visited that territory last night. A large proportion of the houses are damaged and those left standing are cracked and threaten to fall at any time.

Marseilles, France, June 12.—The earthquake shock last night was most severe in the departments of Perault and Bouches du Rhone. Fifteen are dead at Lumboso, ten at St. Cannat and twenty at Rognes. It is believed the total will reach 100.

Food supplies have been dispatched to the helpless people and troops sent to take charge of the situation. Most of the villages are cut off from communication and the news indicates that the situation is worse than at first believed.

Something Good in Music.

The Orchestra Concert at the M. E. Church, South, June 14th, is a noteworthy affair in many respects. Very seldom indeed is it that Roswell is favored with so much excellent talent on one program. Special notice should be given to the solo, "Dainty Rose," which will be sung by Mrs. Frederick R. Jolly, accompanied by the composer, Mr. R. A. A. Chase. Mr. Chase is a young composer of great merit and has already composed several operas besides a large number of beautiful pieces for the piano.

SPAIN WANTS CUBA TO PAY

PORTION OF SPAIN'S DEBT.

Havana, Cuba, June 12.—It became known today that Spain is trying to get Cuba to pay her proportion of the Spanish national debt incurred prior to the Spanish-American war. During the peace negotiations at Paris, Spain endeavored to get the United States to assume this debt, which was refused. Then Spain, in renouncing her sovereignty over Cuba, did not specifically renounce all monetary claims and the Spanish minister has been instructed to press for this for the sake of assurance to the French bond holders. However, the minister does not seem to have done this and a rumor is rife that minister Deayala is to be recalled because of his failure to press the claim. It is also possible congress will cancel the agreement to buy for $300,000 the old Spanish cannon left in Cuba and claimed by Spain. It is said the cannon are no good and not even worth removing to Spain in case the agreement is cancelled.

Detroit, Mich., June 12.—A floor in the plant of the Peninsular Stove works caved in today and was followed by a fire. Four persons were killed and a number injured.

Three bodies have been recovered and one man has been located in the ruins, pinned down in such a manner as to make rescue impossible at present.

THE BLACK HAND GANG

WILL BE ENDED BY ARRESTS.

Cleveland, Ohio, June 12.—U. S. Attorney William Day, today said he believed the men now under arrest for Black Hand work are the right ones and that the gang will be broken up. He made this statement after a conference with the postal inspector. The conference was the result of the arrest of ten men in various parts of the state this week, believed to have been guilty of Black Hand crimes. The postal office inspectors have turned over scores of incriminating letters.

BIG CROWD OUT TO THE

ELK BENEFIT SHOW.

The Melba Palmer Company last night played "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" as a benefit production for the local lodge of Elks. There was a big crowd out, the best that has attended during this company's stay, and the show was a great success. Satisfaction was general and the praise of the company is liberal on the part of practically everyone who attended. The Elks cleared a snug sum on the show and the company did well, also. The same play will be repeated to-night.

ARID LANDS FOR ENTRY

Washington, June 12.—Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, has just designated 270,000 acres of land in New Mexico and 460,000 acres in Montana as coming within the provisions of the 320 acre homestead law. The lands are semi-arid while fertile if properly cultivated and must be farmed according to the "dry farming" methods. The government's idea in giving large farms is to make possible biennial farming.

The Foreign Missionary Society of the First M. E. Church, South, will meet Friday afternoon at 3:30 at the church.

ROSWELL HAS CHANCE

FOR A REAL OPERA HOUSE.

A real, metropolitan opera house for Roswell. That is what is coming, and very little stands in the way, according to the plans that have been promoted successfully by Charles V. Eades, who is now completing his second visit in the city and has everything in readiness to get down to a specific basis, even to having the rough sketches for the building itself. The site for the house has been secured and upon a basis of $12,000 in bonus, nearly all of which has been promised a loan has been negotiated for the balance necessary over and above the sale of tickets on the opening night to insure the construction of a $50,000 play house. And Mr. Eades says that the deal will go through, there being too little in the way to stop it, and that the house will be built.

Dr. Julius Garst has given the ground for the opera house, just south of the Home Bakery on South Main Street and across the street from the Wells Building. A dozen Roswell men have promised donations enough to raise a large portion of the $12,000 bonus. The popular subscription that will come in the sale of seats on the opening night will raise several thousand dollars. Thirty thousand dollars can be secured by the sale of bonds, for two different parties have offered to take them up, one in Chicago and another in Roswell. The only thing lacking is the completion of the required donation or bonus and the sale of the opening night tickets. These things out of the way and Roswell will have as fine an opera house as can be found in cities many times Roswell's size. It will be managed for a time at least, by Mr. Eades, or some other good man that can be secured. But the play house will be here, and cannot be taken away. And one great difficulty in providing amusement for the people of the city and their visitors will have been removed.

To believe that an opera house will be a suitable one for Roswell's future a person need only to look over the drawings which Mr. Eades has made and now has at his room at The Gilkeson. They show a structure modern in every respect, almost fire-proof, absolutely safe for the people who would assemble there, arranged according to the latest and most complete ideas that are expressed in the play houses of larger cities and meeting the legal requirements imposed in states where such laws have been passed, meeting the requirements of scenery that is carried by the Standard attractions and seating comfortably about 1,310 people.

The lot offered by Dr. Garst is 75 feet wide and 110 feet deep, at the alley end of the half block fronting on Main, and a strip twenty feet wide leading to it and running down the center of the 75 foot lot. The plan is to build the house on the west 110 feet of the 75 foot lot and while it is going up, Dr. Garst will improve the front end of the lot on either side of the twenty-foot entrance, giving the whole a uniform and attractive appearance. This plan of building a theatre on the "dead" end of a lot is the usual one followed in later years in all the cities. It meets every requirement, and often as in this case, gives the ground at no cost.

Excluding the entrance, 20 by 88 feet, the house will be 60 by 110 feet in its ground dimensions. An alley of 12 feet will be left on one side and three feet on the other. It is the hope of Mr. Eades to have this three foot alley on the south side increased to eight feet through the donation of a five foot strip on this side. The plan shows the seating capacity as follows: main floor, 610; balcony, 334; gallery 366. These figures include the seats in the boxes and lodges. There will be two boxes and one lodge on each side of the main and balcony floors. The boxes occupy the entire width of the sounding board.

The lower floor is absolutely fire proof, except the wooden top over the concrete floor. There will be safety exits from all floors, and they will be built outside the building, each with a separate stairway extending to the ground. The walls of the building will be made of re-inforced concrete.

The stage will be high and wide enough to handle the scenery and effects of all traveling companies. A fire-proof curtain will go out of sight without tripping. Back of the stage will be also twelve dressing rooms, a property room, heating room, scenery pack, toilets, etc. The stage will be so constructed that a team of horses and vehicle may be driven on it if desired. The dressing rooms will be outside the main wall of the building, to add to the safety of the main house from fire in these rooms. The fly gallery and gridiron, or scene loft will be fitted out in the latest style and with the best trappings and the whole house will be constructed along the most approved lines as laid down by the building commissions of the large cities. In the event this territory passes laws governing the construction of opera houses, Roswell's house will not need rebuilding for lack of the proper precaution at this time.

The object of building such a house at this time is not only to supply the present need of the town in the line of amusement, but to save it from destruction in a theatrical sense by having a few good shows brought here before such a house is built. If a few good shows come here before a suitable place is constructed in which they can be put on, it will kill the show business among the people of Roswell and in the eyes of the whole theatrical world. For the news as to theatrical conditions in a town spreads like wild-fire in the theatrical profession. A good show, especially light operas, extravaganza, etc., cannot be put on except in the proper surroundings. The best production on the road would not look well in a poor dress. These points must be considered, as all standard attractions played over all circuits now represent a very heavy investment both in wardrobe and scenery. There are but few companies traveling that do not carry at least one car load of paraphernalia of this kind, and a production without these appointments gives but poor satisfaction. Roswell wants the same show for their money that Kansas City, or Denver gets for its money, and wants to give the production all that is possible in accommodations so that their best efforts will be encouraged.

It is to the interest of every citizen who has the best interests of the town, as well as his own interests, at heart, to co-operate with President Kellahan, of the Commercial Club in promoting this plan for a real, modern opera house in Roswell. Mr. Eades comes to this city endorsed by Dr. Garst, and introduced to this office by the editor of the Independent Times of Sreator, Ill., as a practical theatre builder of long and wide experience. Mr. Eades has had control of construction and overhauling of a large number of theatres all over the United States and for the last six years his efforts have been confined entirely to the New England and Middle States. He is undoubtedly the man who will carry the proposition through and it is up to the people to get busy.
